BANKER GIVES BOND

Crowder Recovering In Amarillo Hospital After Fray

Jim Crowder, principal of the Happy grade school is in an Amarillo hospital and T. H. Campbell, president of the First State Bank at Happy is out under $5,000 bond as the result of an affray on the streets of Happy Saturday.

The hearing for Campbell charged with intent to murder, was set for Monday afternoon at Tulia, but was postponed at that time until Friday, hoping that Crowder would be able to leave the hospital.

It is stated that the affray was caused by a protested check given by Crowder, who claimed to have sufficient funds to cover the check. It is stated that Crowder was stabbed five times by the banker. Campbell will enter a plea of self defense in the examining trial.

Crowder was rushed immediately to Amarillo by ambulance, while Campbell surrendered to officers and was taken to Tulia where the bond was set and signed by his associates in the banking business at Happy.

Campbell has been head of the Happy bank for six years, coming to that position from the Dumas First State Bank.

Crowder graduated from W. T. last year and is teaching his first year in the Happy schools. His home is in Chilicothe. He is a nephew of Ray Campbell, and while in college was secretary to Coach S. D. Burton.

It is stated that feelings were high in Happy in regard to the stabbing, with both participants having a large following. A large number of witnesses have been summoned for the hearing in Tulia, which starts at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning.

Contest Winner

EGBERT NEELEY

Perhaps the honor most coveted by a large number of country boys and girls in Randall County is to be the winner in the Citizenship Contest, sponsored by Judge S. B. Orton. This contest is decided by a popular vote of all the school children in the country schools. It is open to sixth and seventh grade students and each school may have one entry. In the contest a large number of students go from school to school speaking on any one of several assigned subjects. This year the subjects were:

1. Why I believe in our form of government.
2. What part can I take in our government.
3. Why we have laws.
4. Why the State of Texas spends money to send me to school.
5. How our county tax money is spent.

After the speakers have been heard the children vote by ballot for the one they like best.

This year to avoid excessive travel, it was decided to divide the county into two sections—north and south—containing approximately the same number of school children, and let each section hear its contestants and choose the best one to represent that section of the county. Following this plan, every contestant on the south side of the county appeared before every school on that side of the county and Egbert Neeley was chosen to represent the south side of the county. In a like manner, Elizabeth Hales was chosen to represent the north side of the county.

In the final contest these two spoke in every school of the county, both using the subject, "Why I believe in our form of government." In some school one would get a majority of the votes, while at the next perhaps the other would lead. In the end Egbert won, not only the honor of being Rural School President, but also the beautiful silver cup and a free trip to Colorado, given by Judge Orton.

Relief Money Will Be Exhausted Next Week States Orton

"Randall county's relief money will be exhausted next week," stated Judge S. B. Orton yesterday. This money has been handled by Judge Orton and Fred E. Wortham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. All of this work has been handled without charge against the fund, although state officials authorized a percent of all funds handled for office expenses. The last check, possibly for the year, was received Saturday by Judge Orton. While in Austin last week Mr. Wortham prevailed upon the officials to send this money in order to complete the work now in progress.

All relief work in the county must stop when the funds are spent, as no agency in the county is prepared to handle the situation.

Lawrence Westbrook, state executive, has notified all county agencies that Texas will likely not receive any more of the R. F. C. money unless the state votes $20,000,000 in bonds to match the federal contribution. It is likely that this issue will be submitted to the voters on August 26th along with the beer bill.

MOTHER DIES

Miss Ella Stephens was called to Sunset last week by the death of her mother, who was suddenly stricken with pneumonia.

OIL TEST TO BE MADE N. E. OF THIS CITY

Sixth Hole for Randall Started by Amarillo Men

4,500 FEET CONTRACT

Work Started After Two Years in Leasing Block

A test well has been started in the northeast part of Randall county, about 16 miles from Canyon. This will be the sixth test well which has been sunk in Randall county.

The test, located 1,320 feet from the east line and 300 feet south of the north line of the northwest quarter of section 85, block 2, B&M survey, Randall county, will go a minimum of 4,500 feet and will be equipped to go to 6,500 feet if necessary. Twenty-inch casing will start the hole.

This location is close to the center of a 20,000-acre block assembled by W. W. Woolsey who, in connection with A. D. Devore, will drill the test. The test will be about four and a half miles, air line, from the plotted area of Amarillo.

Don C. Hughes did the geological work with a magnetometer and in addition several of the big company geologists have made both geophysical and subsurface reports, all agreeing on the existence of a structure of large proportions.

Mr. Woolsey has been working on the proposition for over a year and made one trip clear across Texas in an airplane to get a signature on one of the leases in the block. A D. Devore is one of the best known drilling contractors in the Panhandle, formerly doing much of the development work for the Gulf Producing Company. It is understood they have other associates well and favorably known in the oil industry in this area.

Mrs. E. H. Mahler Dies Yesterday as Result of Burns

Mrs. E. H. Mahler, aged 35 years, died yesterday morning in an Amarillo hospital as the result of burns at the family home 12 miles south of Canyon. The funeral services will be held at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon at the Church of Christ, conducted by Rev. E. C. McKenzie.

Mrs. Mahler went into the dugout at 5:00 o'clock Tuesday morning to look after the incubator. Striking a match, the room burst into flames which enveloped her, setting all her clothing on fire. She ran toward the house, and with the aid of blankets her husband succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not until Mrs. Mahler had been severely burned all over her body.

The deceased is survived by her husband and three children, her father and three sisters.

Half Certified Seed Has Been Sold to Farmers

About 12,000 pounds of the 23,000 pounds of certified seed bought by the Chamber of Commerce thru County Agent Upchurch has been sold to date, according to the report made by Mr. Upchurch this week. The varieties of seed available are Milo, Kafir, Hegari, and Red Top Sorghum. The supply of this seed is limited and will not be guaranteed for any length of time.

The county agent also has certified seed of the same varieties to be furnished free to all 4-H club members. The seed is sold at exact cost through the county agent's office.

SHOP LIFTERS CAUGHT

A man and woman were taken into custody Monday by Sheriff Bob Barnett when a clock was stolen at the Thompson Hardware store and later sold at a local restaurant. Working together, the man engaged clerks in inspecting merchandise while the woman secured the clock and concealed it under her coat. From evidence the pair had recently been in the Lubbock jail.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvan Watson moved to Kress last week to make their home, after visiting in the parental home here.

C. C. Stewart stated Friday that he had received very little rain at his farm northeast of the city.

HILL IS BACK FROM AUSTIN; NO MONEY BILL

Appropriations Are Still Held Up in Free Conference

PRINT SUMMER BILL

Vote on Summer School Is Likely During Week

Dr. J. A. Hill returned Tuesday night from Austin where he has been for a week in regard to the appropriation for W. T. during the coming two years. Mr. Hill states that no work has been done on the free conference report, and will not be started until the free conference report on the Departmental bill is out of the way. By custom the Education bill is always the last appropriation bill to be considered in the legislature.

Both the House and Senate have passed bills for the educational institutions, but the House bill is about 20% less than the one passed by the Senate. It is likely that final disposition will not be made of the educational bill until the closing hours of the legislature. While the 120 day session will end next Tuesday, and the pay of the legislators will be reduced from $10 to $5 per day, it is estimated that the session will not end much before the first of June. The Governor has indicated that no special session will be called.

The House voted last Friday 98 to 11 to print the Senate bill on minority report for an appropriation for the summer session this year. The House appropriations committee had voted against this appropriation 6 to 5. While this large majority in favor of printing the bill may not signify that the appropriation will be passed, it denoted more strength in favor of the colleges than did the general appropriation bill when it was passed. It is expected that the summer bill will be taken up this week.

County Commissioner W. E. Bennett was in the city Friday from his home northeast of Canyon and states that no rain has fallen in his section.

ALL PANHANDLE JOINS MOVE TO OBTAIN PARK

R. E. Baird Is Named As Chairman for Randall County

AT CLAUDE TODAY

Plan of Action Is Being Worked Out by Various Leaders

Local citizens meeting with state officials in Canyon, Amarillo and Claude have started an organization of Panhandle-wide scope for the purpose of bringing to pass the dream of several years in the establishment of a Palo Duro State Park.

Amarillo citizens were here Tuesday to meet with the Chamber of Commerce and discuss plans of action.

Ten cars with more than forty citizens inspected the Palo Duro yesterday. A dinner was given at Amarillo last night attended by representatives from eight counties, at which time an organization was formed to take charge of the work. T. E. Johnson of Amarillo was named chairman of the committee and Clyde W. Warwick of Canyon was elected secretary, with the following members:

Donley County, Odos Caraway, Clarendon.

Armstrong County, L. P. White, Claude.

Potter County, T. E. Johnson, Amarillo.

Randall County, R. E. Baird, Canyon.

Hall County, W. C. Dickil, Memphis.

Swisher County, Dr. J. W. Stevenson, Tulia.

Briscoe County, J. A. Bain, Silverton.

Great enthusiasm was shown in the meeting in Amarillo last night for the establishment of the park. The Goodnight Trail will be the official name for the project, all speakers agreeing that the road into the Palo Duro should start at the point east of this city where Col. and Mrs. Goodnight first entered the canyon. It is proposed to extend the Goodnight Trail from the new museum building, down into the Palo Duro to the old headquarters established by the Goodnights, and then on to the grave of Col. Goodnight at his old home at the town of Goodnight.

Securing the right-of-way thru the Palo Duro will be the first big project, with the possibilities of adding the 14,000 acres of the Byars Bros. land as a park project.

D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Parks Board, stated that he was ready to go to work on the project just as soon as the state acquired title to the land. A vast amount of work has been done by the State departments of Water Engineers and the Health department in making plans for camp

PANHANDLE MEMBER 1932 PRESS ASSOCIATION

It was a great surprise to most people to see the House of Representatives turn down the Ferguson plea for a five member elective Highway Commission to the extent of passing the bill to not become effective berofe the general election next year. This defeats the Ferguson purpose of getting control of the Highway Commission by appointing three new members. If the Senate passes the bill in this form it will probably be vetoed by Mrs. Ferguson. It is rather amusing to see those who so ardently supported the elective Highway Commission, now support a new appointive Oil and Gas Commission, thus taking this power from the elective Railroad Commission. Fact of the business is that in most cases, more efficient men are appointed to office than are elected. Going through a political campaign for some minor office in Texas is very expensive and most distasteful to men who have any self-pride.

The people of Texas will vote on beer in a special election August 26. The cry of the beer advocates is to legalize beer and pay the running expenses of the state with the beer tax. As a matter of course, some one must pay all taxes. If beer is legalized, this tax will be paid by the women and children of Texas; and the tax will come from these women and children who will be deprived of the food and clothing which they are even now lacking. Regardless of the result of the vote, the people of the state will not be satisfied with the results since only about 60% of the normal voting strength paid their poll taxes this year. The cry was raised after prohibition was voted that 3,000,000 young men in the army had no voice in the matter. Regardless of the results on August 26th, the losing side will howl that the 60% who may cast a ballot do not represent the majority of the state.

For thirty years the people of the Panhandle have talked and thought about a Palo Duro Park. It seems now that the first really tangible movement has been started by Fred A. Emory of Chicago toward this park. The results of two years' labor on his part will be realized, if the park is finally started. However, it is going to take the united efforts of the Panhandle to finally put over the project, and in this movement the Panhandle as a whole is invited to join. From a historical standpoint, the dedication of the Goodnight Trail, and the rehabilitation of the old Goodnight headquarters in the Palo Duro will appeal to all Panhandle citizens, and cause them to join in the movement.

The Dalhart Texan pays its respect to the Dallas News editorial of last week calling attention to West Texas sand storms, and advocating President Roosevelt starting action against the storms. The Dallas News would solve the problem by spreading linoleum over the Panhandle. "The editorial is a silly and senseless attempt to express its dissatisfaction with the farm bill sponsored by the Democratic administration," says the Dalhart Texan. Of course if the Dallas News succeeds in closing the colleges of West Texas and carpeting this section with linoleum, in its own judgment it shall have fulfilled its mission as the greatest newspaper in Texas.

"The worst dust storm in years," has been the familiar expression following each blow since January. Whether or not any of the numerous dust storms have really been worse than those experienced in other years, may be a question of opinion and due to the frailty of memory on the part of the citizens. But all agree that this spring has been the worst so far as frequency coupled with severity are concerned. Starting in January and continuing now for four months, even the old timers are baffled in recollection at the record being established this year.

Inflation has done more to increase the price of wheat than the prospects of a short crop occasioned by the continued drought in the Southwest. In other words the gambling instincts of man has more to do with wheat prices than do the deficiencies of nature as expressed by a short crop on the wheat producing sections of the Southwest. A few farmers were lucky in having part of last year's crop on hand. However, the majority were forced to sell their short crop of last year below the cost of production.

The farm revolt in Iowa, with the assault on a district judge, will have a very bad effect upon possible future farm loans in that state, and in other states which should be so unfortunate as to follow the Iowa example. A man will not loan his money where there is danger of the borrower attempting to default in payment, even though conditions have turned against him, and the deal has turned out bad for the borrower. The farmers are showing bad judgment in seeking to repudiate these loans.

The Panhandle Press Association will meet in Amarillo tomorrow, and will visit the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum in Canyon Saturday afternoon. This organization has always been deeply interested in the Society's work; is a life member; and last year made a donation of $150 to the museum building fund.

Now Outing Togs Have Their Inning

WITH SILK, LINEN AND COTTON BLOUSES FOR VARIETY, SWAGGER SUITS ARE CHIC FOR BOTH TOWN AND COUNTRY WEAR

BY HARRIET

WITH the first days of spring everyone begins thinking of vacations and week-ends in the country. Clothes that are correct on the street in town but serve you well for those coveted week-ends are uppermost in every woman's mind these days.

Swagger suits of rough, sports materials are chic both for town and country wear. The blouses help to make transitions. Wear silk ones in town and have two or three linen or novelty cotton ones for country. The skirts topped off with a sweater gives you an admirable golf or hiking costume. The topcoat, worn over sweater or blouse, makes the outfit warm enough for early spring motoring.

The right accessories are important if you choose a swagger coat for vacations. You may wear high-heeled, dress oxfords with it in town but remember that the flat-heeled, wide sports oxfords will be more comfortable as well as in better taste for walking in the country.

You will need some sort of a silk outfit, preferably one that will look smart on the porch of a country club, do well for almost all week-end activities and yet be so practical that you can wear it to the office between week-ends.

For this second necessary vacation ensemble you can choose some type of a sleeveless dress with matching jacket. Wear the jacket when you are a spectator at sports tournaments; remove it and you have a tennis or golf frock.

If you prefer a skirt and jacket or blouse to dress and jacket you're giving your imagination a chance to run riot this year. Plain skirts have lovely checked or plaid blouses. Wide ascot ties or pert little bows under the chin go far toward enhancing jackets.

The trimming on these new little two-piece sports outfits is usually simple but striking. You can have your initials on an ascot tie, on your bag or even on the belt or hat of an ensemble. Initials which are cemented on the material are newer than embroidered ones.

BLOUSE, hat and bag of white matelasse crepe make a smart accessory ensemble for this suit of soft woolen.

The smart sports frock of navy and white shown at left is featured by a monogramed scarf, the letters of the initials being cemented on the material. At right, a white blouse of a rayon crepe matelasse in chevron pattern, hat and handbag of same material, and white kid oxfords with perforation trims set off a youthful spring suit of soft woolen material.

It's the kind of a suit which will do you proud in town and is just the thing to wear to the office. Don the white accessories for spectator sports wear.

The coat is the new three-quarters length and a wide-shouldered silhouette is achieved by a wide yoke and tiny pleats on the shoulders.

The second outfit is very flattering to the younger woman. It consists of a navy blue silk skirt and over-blouse of navy and white checked crepe. The shoulders are cut along raglan lines allowing for fullness and comfort.

The wide ascot tie spreads across the chest to reveal charming initials which are cemented on the material.

The belt follows the line of the tie, gets wider in front and buttons in fascinating manner where the ends cross.

It's an ideal outfit to wear when you watch the races from the sidelines and also when you are a guest on a boat for lunch.

A shallow straw hat and navy bag and gloves go with it. When you want to dress it up a little more you can wear a white hat and white kid shoes.

BUFFALO SQUAD LOSES CONTEST LUBBOCK TECH

Bitter Rivalry of Teams Threatens to End All Competition

SCORE 21 TO 0

Buffs Lack Final Punch To Put Score Across In Hard Game

In what looms as the last athletic contest between W. T. S. T. C. and Texas Technological College of Lubbock, the West Texas Buffaloes went down fighting before the relentless attack of the Texas Tech Matadors last Friday night on the Lubbock gridiron in the the annual spring football game which ended 21-0 in favor of the Matadors.

Coach "Sad" Sam Burton, Buff mentor, used nineteen men while the Tech coach employed the services of more than fifty huskies during the fray.

Teams Come to Blows

A crowd of 4,000, including a small number of W. T. fans, cheered the combatants who permitted the bitter rivalry between the two schools to lead to blows. Fortenberry, Buffalo tackle, and a Tech player were ejected from the game for fighting. Continued ill feeling after the game led to a resumption of hostilities which involved the two squads and consumed several minutes before coaches and officials could establish peace and order. It is said that rough and unsoprtsmanlike tactics on the part of one or two of the Buffaloes' opponents led to the opening fisticuffs. No one was seriously injured although bruises and blackened eyes resulted.

As an aftermath of the affair, Coach Burton will ask the W. T. athletic committee to sever athletic competition with the Lubbock college. If this is done it will mean the end of the keenest rivalry between colleges in this part of the state. Since the establishment of Texas Tech, the two colleges have been natural rivals with the battle for supremacy of the Plains being renewed year after year.

At present West Texas occupies the basketball throne while Tech reigns in football.

Summary of Game

In the game Friday night an 18 yard pass, Cannon to Harris, accounted for Tech's first touchdown in the first quarter. McElroy galloped 27 yards early in the second quarter for the second counter. The final touchdown came in the fourth quarter, Dowell plunging from the five-yard line.

The Buffs penetrated the Tech 10-yard line several times but failed to make the necessary downs. Colvin, end who did most of the punting for W. T., was the outstanding kicker on the field. Morgan, Buffalo quarter, made the best run of the game when he took a kick-off on his own five yard line to return it to the 45 yard line. Out of six passes attempted by the Buffs, two were completed, Morgan to Martindale whose catches were sensations of the game. Captain "Cow" Williams ran true to form. The big halfback was a war horse on the defense and a veritable machine in line plunges.

The Buffalo starting line-up:

Line-up

Ends, Colvin and Kendricks; tackles, Walker and Fortenberry; guards, Duncan and Lovelace; center, Poe; quarterback, Morgan; halfback, Brotherton and Davis; fullback, Williams.

Substitutions: Higgins for Fortenberry; Rankin for Davis; Martindale for Brotherton; Thompson for Morgan; Stowe for Kendrick; Fowler for Stowe; Moore for Fowler; Tipps for Duncan.

Williams, Colvin, Walker, Lovelace, and Poe were the only men to play the entire game.

Brasilian Woman Asks Information On W. T. Courses

A letter from far away Garanhuns, Brazil, was received last week by Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Director of the W. T. Bureau of Public Service, requesting information about W. T.'s correspondence courses.

Written by Mrs. C. F. Stapp, the letter read: "Please mail to my address your correspondence course catalogue. I have been informed of such work there by the Dean of North Texas State Teachers College. I wish to complete work for an A. B. degree. May I hear from you upon receipt of this?"

Dated April 3, the request was 24 days enroute to its destination.

Mrs. Reeves and members of her staff, after numerous surmises as to the nationality of the Brazilian correspondent, have come to the conclusion that the lady is of American origin and Brazilian by adoption.

Burton Cancels Tech Meet, and Suggest Severing Relations

As a result of the spring football game between W. T. and Texas Tech, Lubbock, Coach S. D. Burton is recommending that athletic relations between the two schools be discontinued. The following letter was forwarded the Tech coaching staff yesterday:

Mr. P. W. Cawthon,
Athletic Director,
Texas Technological College,
Lubbock, Texas.

Dear Mr. Cawthon:

"The feeling here among our students and fans is so tense following the attack on our football team at Lubbock last Friday night, that I feel it is advisable to cancel the track meet scheduled, between your team and ours for Canyon, May 20.

"I feel that athletics have been given a tremendous setback as a result of the altercation, and I would not have had it happen for anything. I think it especially unfortunate coming as it did, at a time when athletics is coming in for so much criticism.

"I am recommending to our athletic council that athletic relations with Tech be severed, as long as the schools maintain their present coaching staffs.

"I have always tried to promote a wholesome relationship between the schools and regret that such action seems necessary, and I feel that this could have been avoided had we all been working diligently at the job. It is my belief that the morale of any organization is not built from the ground up, but rather that it filters from the top down, and I feel that somewhere along the line we have failed in the real purpose of athletics as I understand the purpose of athletics.

"I am,

Yours sincerely,
S. D. BURTON,
Physical Director.

Mrs. Avery Turner Makes Contribution of Valuable Relics

One of the most recent acquisitions of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society is a collection of historical relics coming from Mrs. Avery Turner of Amarillo, Texas. Mrs. Turner is the wife of the late Avery Turner, pioneer railroad man of the Panhandle.

The oldest article of the collection is a large pewter platter supposed to have been used during the Reveloution by a soldier in the army of George Washington. It has been in the Turner family for many years.

More directly related with the history of this immediate section is a steel railroad gauge used by Mr. Turner in New Mexico on the Santa Fe railroad about 1885. The instrument was used in gauging the distance between rails of the first Santa Fe line in New Mexico.

Another article of considerable historical pedigree is a highback swivel office chair. The chair was given to Mr. Avery Turner about 1887 by a group of Santa Fe employees and was used by him constantly until his death just two weeks ago.

The fourth article is a German trench spade used by the German soldiers on the French front during the World War.

It is expected that many other valuable collections will be received by the officials of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society now that ample protection and proper mediums of display can be provided.

C. H. Thurman Is Granted Minister's License—Methodist

At a recent District Conference of the M. E. Church South which convened at Tenth Street Methodist Church in Amarillo, April 25-26, Mr. C. H. Thurman was licensed to preach. Mr. Thurman is at present a professor of language in the college.

During the summer session, Mr. Thurman will continue his work toward a B. D. in the School of Theology of Southern Methodist University at Dallas. Mr. Thurman received his M. A. at this university also.

As World Figures Met

Southwestern of Weatherford Will Be Here Saturday

Saturday night, May 6th, the Buffs' thinly-clads will be hosts to the Southwestern Bulldogs of Weatherford, Okla. The Bulldogs are coached by Rankin Williams, who was one time an athlete under Coach "Sad" Sam Burton, and who has the honor of being one of the most valuable all-around athletes of the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference.

Williams boasts of having a seasoned aggregation of cinder-path men, who are capable of taking honors in most competition.

Francis Young, Oklahoma state champion hurdler last season, will not be with the aggregation on account of illness. Joe Ross, Young's understudy, will be pitted against the flashy Rudolph in the hurdle races. Gore, a capable performer in the sprint races, will be matched with Alvin Morgan, who recently proved himself a capable dash man.

Williams also has a number of quarter milers that can do the quarter in fair time.

The "Giant" Fortenberry is not likely to participate in the meet on account of injuries sustained in the spring football game with Texas Technological College. This drops the West Texas percentage considerably as Fortenberry is an all-round man, and usually picks up several points.

CITY BUYS 1,000 FEET OF NEW FIRE HOSE

At the meeting of the City Commission Monday night Thompson Hardware Co. was awarded the contract for the purchase of 1,000 feet of 2½ inch fire hose. Harvey Cash states that it has been several years since any new hose has been purchased, and the new hose was ordered in order to protect the fire rates of the city.

Despite His Bad Knees and Distaste for a Muddy Track, W. R. Coe's Horse, Ladysman, Is Touted to Win the Kentucky Derby

BY PHILIP MARTIN

THE consensus of track followers' opinions seems to be that W. R. Coe's great horse, Ladysman, is the prime favorite to win the Kentucky Derby, to be run May 6.

Last year Ladysman was the outstanding two-year-old. Son of the Futurity winner, Pompey, this great equine ran second in that 1932 event, but when at his best form, outclassed all opposition.

There was some excuse for his failing in the Belmont Futurity. He ran in close quarters all the way and was unable to break through the mob until it was too late to catch the speeding Kerry Patch.

* * *

IT can be said of the horse that he likes good going. His one attempt on a muddy track found him finishing in eighth position. And the Derby track at Churchill Downs is noted for its heavy going on Derby Day!

However, the horse was forced to break from the 21st post position, and that fact alone is plenty of excuse for any horse.

Ladysman's speed may be his undoing before long. The horse is bothered with bad knees, and the rate at which he hustles down the track doesn't give them much chance to get sound. But it is unlikely they will bother him before Derby post time.

* * *

A NUMBER of fillies are entered in this year's Blue Grass classic. Among them are four outstanding horses—Swivel, At Top, Technique and Bamboula. Swivel seems to be the outstanding runner of this class.

This filly was only outscored by two other horses in two-year-old winnings last year—Ladysman and Kerry Patch—earning the total of $71,755.

A filly in the Kentucky Derby is handicapped by tradition. Only once in 58 years has a lady horse copped the glory of this race; that was when Regret won the classic in 1915.

Another handicap a filly faces in the Derby is the fact that the race is run during mating time. It is hard to get a filly in shape during this season, and it may be that Swivel will not be in the best of condition when she lines up for the start.

COL. E. R. BRADLEY, famous Kentucky horseman, has four horses entered in the Derby this year—Boilermaker, Broker's Tip, Fingal and Beefsteak. Of these three the colonel looks to Boilermaker to show best.

The Kentucky gentleman believes Boilermaker has a chance to do what only one horse ever did in the Derby—win the classic as a maiden. Sir Barton was the only horse ever to cop the classic as his first win, and it may be that Bradley's hunch will be good enough to see a repetition of this performance by Boilermaker.

Cactus Cal's Pard

Well, folks, old Cactus Cal is not doing business this week—went down to the other end of the city – to the college to interview some of them sociologist proffs down there, thinking of becoming one such some time hisself some day, I think. Anyhow, me being his old pard, he pushes his work off on me. Now I don't think I'm so efficient for this undertaking, but what's my opinion against old Cactus and a thousand others.

As for the weather, I think that's what Cactus usually starts with, I ain't no prophet, so I guess I will have to talk on drier subjects.

That sure was a swell feed the Juniors throwed for the Seniors down to the Christian church the other night. I never knew that there was so many of them. Armor Lee done a extry good job of toast mistress and George done pretty good. Mr. Terry also made a very inspiring talk, but the the speech that will be remembered by me and every one present, was that made by the next year's senior president. And the musicians and dancers—they sure was good. I heard several on the back tables say that from the looks of their hats they must have been doing some very good dancing. And the musicians I thought they done awful good playing. There wasn't really any use in them having that dirt throwed on them just to entertain a bunch of high school kids. And it seems like that Collins boy must have a way with serving girls from the way he was eating ice cream.

From what I hear some of our boys and girls are going to state in some of them speaking and running contests they've been having around here. I think Rozy Cash is gonna make a speech for 'em down there. They said she won first here so she must be pretty good. Coarse she won't have Scoop down there to get her all inspired, but she'll probably win anyhow, knowing he's depending on her. I saw the boys running down at the running meet down here. Sure had a hard time getting in, though. They wanted two bits to get through the gate and I wouldn't give two bits in times like these to see anyone run. Well anyhow, I went around behind the grandstand and some boys throwed me down a ticket and I went around to the gate again. They let me in. Our boys looked pretty good. That Fielding can run like a cottontail rabbit and Cone is just as good. If they don't fall down or something down there at Austin they're going to make someone catch a jackrabbit to win.

They was also telling me that a bunch of home eeck girls was going somewhere or other to some kind of clothing contest. I don't no much what they got down in that part of the building. Too drun many girls for me to hang around there much.

Anyway there's going to be a whole bunch of kids gone from school pretty soon. I think there oughta be a better way of deciding who is the best man than getting out there in the cold and running. Now my own personal opinion is that they should take a basket and put a bunch of numbered pieces of paper in it. Then the contestants could draw and the one that got No. 1 would be first, No. 2 would be second, and No. 3 would be third and so on till they run out of men. Somebody's gotta lose anyhow and this would give Canyon a chance to win a meet now and then. And we wouldn't have to stand out in the cold watching.

Yours truly,
Leonard Brasuel.

By Shirley Breitling.

Monday evening, May 1, at 8:15 o'clock, Margaret Foster presented a piano recital in the college auditorium. She was assisted by William Dawes, baritone, who was accompanied by Josephine Duflot at the piano. The music was enjoyed by a large audience.

Heart Throbs— Collar Buttons

Everybody knows that fine young man, Joe Collins. I know of several girls that would like to go with him steady, but Joe isn't a one woman man. He tries this one and then that one, but doesn't seem to care particularly about any of them. A sophomore has been engaging his time some, but we find he also likes the students from the college. On Sunday nights Joe comes escorting Miss Whittenburg to League—do they make a match—well, I'll say.

Does anybody know where red clothes are manufactured?—if so please tell them to close the shops. When somebody sees a girl coming down the street with a red dress on most likely they say, "There is Eulalia Moore." You know that Burnam boy isn't crazy about red clothes, but since he likes the girl he has to put up with them.

Adlyne Groom and Victor Hill have just found out that both exist in the same sphere. I wonder how long it will last?

Kathryn Robinson and Trannie Mae Russell think they are too young to start going with boys. I wonder if they have old fashioned ideas?

Some of the students have been wondering why Margery Tankersley likes to stay in town now. Well, I'll tell you—one of those Brasuel boys is attracting her attention. Margery is usually a quiet girl, but actions speak louder than words. We see them together enough to know that it's getting serious. Isn't it?

Jane Clark and Phyllis Bryant are not interested in boys. They like each other's company better than any boys, but lets hope they don't continue to stay that way until they grow too old.

We don't see much of Paul Scott in this part of town. Just as soon as he gets out of class he rushes to his car. All he has to do is start it, because it heads straight for the College. I wonder who she is?

Lela Hickox and Wilma Harris are interested in Amarillo material. I wonder if it is as good as what Canyon produces. No, I don't think so.

J. H. Wright prefers the young ladies of the Baptist church.

Shirley Breitling and Blanche West are planning on being kin to each other some day. I don't know the arrangements, but for further information see them.

That Cone boy is kinda bashful, I do believe. I don't see why he don't step out with some of these girls. They would like the idea, I know.

I wonder if you have ever noticed how old Lloyd's car is getting? No wonder. That road out to Hardman's is rough on his car, but he doesn't mind. We are just waiting to see which wears out first, the road or the car.

Now, that Tyson Cox is a problem. His mind changes about as much as the weather. Tyson says he doesn't like girls. Sometimes I believe this and other times I don't, but every once in a while I see him turning the corner on two wheels with a girl doing everything in her power to keep from grabbing hold of him. Now is this nice, I ask you?

Jack Downing has cast his eyes in the other end of town. Tell us who she is, Jack.

Now that Mary Beth Campbell and George Brasuel are hitting it off swell. Let me tell you something. George just can't stay away from the high school on play practice nights. The other night Mary Beth was going home from play practice in the car. She happened to notice the lights were not burning. She saw George coming down the street, so she decided she would stop and see what was wrong with the lights, but of course we know what she stopped for. George came running up and asked if he could assist her. They looked at everything else but the lights; so Mary Beth said, "Well, we can get them fixed at the filling station." George said "Sure," and hopped in. Off they went, but I doubt whether they went to the filling station—don't you?

Now that Maxine Middleton and Bob Black are a case. If it were snowing, raining, or hailing, you would see them standing out in front of the school building talking.

Myrtle Cates looks mighty dreamy eyed these days. We wonder if David Horn could give us any explanation.

J. M. Black, Jack Burnett and Truett O'Donald don't like girls at all. I guess these boys have pretty good sense. They know it isn't wise to get mixed up with the women.

Lula Visage and Jennie Lee No-

Valedictory

Happy girls, smiling youths,
Lined upon a platform,
Slightly flushed, rather warm,
Forty-six proudly hearing truths
In a lengthy, boring speech.

Looking backward, looking forward,
Ending school, beginning new Fresh lives. Of these a few
May be famous. The reward
Of many will be simpled, happier.

Perhaps a clerk, or a doctor
Sitting near a minister,
A lawyer, dentist, or forester.
"You may one day be a senator"
Shouts the hot, flushed orator.

Leaving gaiety, accepting then
Care using things they'e learned,
By this short ceremony turned
Overnight into men and women
The world spreading out before them.

Continuing in life as they have Done in school, giving the best
They had, having no second best
Being loyal always, they wave
A last farewell to school life.

Marjorie Tankersley.

Seniors Lead In School Activities For Past Year

The Senior Class of '33 has had a full nine months of crowded activities. Never before has a senior class had such a varied program. Whether it is due to the sponsor or to the class as a whole, can't be told. But this class has been very different from the proceeding classes of C. H. S.

We have noted some of the important high lights of the senior class this year. While it isn't a complete list it does mention a few social and other events that we can look back upon with pleasure.

In the first class meeting we got two of the best class officers that could be had; Mr. Terry for our sponsor and George Brasuel for our president.

The following week was one set aside for the election of the student council president. After a week of vigorous campaigning, Leonard Brasuel was elected. Numerous other seniors held places on the student council.

The faculty opened the social season for the seniors with a "42" party. This was closely followed by a party given to the seniors by their sponsor at his home.

The class added to their treasury fund by selling "Beat Hereford" tags. Almost everyone in High School had one.

In all plays given in C. H. S. this year the senior class was well represented. The majority of the cast of both the Purple Pep's play and the one-act play were made up of seniors.

A picnic given by the seniors was well attended by all seniors and some juniors.

When the gold footballs were given, ten seniors, or half of the entire squad, received them.

The juniors became very generous and invited the entire senior class on a picnic. Most of the seniors took advantage of this generous offer and attended.

This picnic didn't hurt the senior athletes because they went ahead and ran away with the first intramural track meet ever held in Canyon High School.

The seniors sneak day was a huge success this year. No one outside the senior class was admitted in on the secret until after we had left. I bet this old school was one lonesome place that day.

To help raise money to put our queen and king over, the class sponsored a box supper. Although only seven boxes were brought, we cleared $9.15 which is somewhat of a wad.

Another thing that the seniors sponsored this year that has never been done before was to sponsor the first stunt night. At the close of all stunts the Queen and King were crowned. Long live Margery and Austin.

Every year a general discussion is held to decide what the senior class will leave the school. This year the gift will be long needed curtains for the windows in the auditorium. The order has been sent off and before school is out they will be officially presented to the school.

By Tyson Cox.

Maxine Middleton, Mary Beth Campbell, Zudie Mae Bible and Margery Tankersley spent Friday night with Louise Wester.

The sad part is that we'll never know how much sooner the depression would have ended if statesmen had left it alone.

Shirley Breitling entered C. H. S. in '29. She has been a member of the Home Ec., Spanish, and Tawawana clubs. Shirley was a very active member of the senior basketball team in the intramural contest.

Myrtle Cates has been here four years. She has been a member of the Dramatic, Spanish and Glee Clubs. Myrtle takes more interest in class work than in activities.

George Brasuel came to C. H. S. four years ago. He is president of the senior class, and a member of the Athletic club. He has played football three years, basketball one year and has come out for track two years.

Lloyd Buchanan has been enrolled in Canyon High four years. He came from Childress, and is a member of the Athletic and Manual Training clubs. Lloyd has many friends among the students of C. H. S.

Margery Tankersley came from Hereford three years ago. She has been a member of the Press, Dramatic, Home Ec., and Purple Pep. She was president and a very active member of the Purple Peps this year.

Leonard Brasuel has been here four years, and is a member of the Athletic club. He has been one of Canyon High School's best football players for three years.

Kathryn Robinson has been a member of the S. P. Q. R., Debate, Social Science and Dramatic clubs and has done good work in Debate.

Class Has Grown From Lonely Trio To Forty-Seven

Our class history is a most interesting one. Some of us have been together from the first grade on through the remaining ten. Three little freckled-faced boys started in the first grade. Two of them were red headed and Black chaps, Bob and J. M., and the other was Elvert Laughery.

Later, others joined them, year by year, throughout their journey through grammar school. They were Maxine Middleton, Ogden Stroud, R. L. Hurst, Victor Hill, Truet O'Donald, Kathryn Robinson, Louise Wester, Eulalie Moore, F. A. Thomas, and Jack Downing. These persons have worked together splendidly throughout their school days. They have enjoyed greatly their work during these many years they have been together.

Having finished their grammar school, they started to Canyon High School as freshmen. They were, as most Freshmen are, quite green and dumb. Other persons, Verline Furlow, Margery Tankersley, Lula Visage, H. B. Owen, Trannie Mae Russell, Shirley Breitling, Leonard and George Brasuel, Lloyd Buchanan, Phyllis Bryant, Myrtle Cates, and Ruth Frank, came into this class and joined their being teased and being laughed at.

When we were sophomores, Jack Burnett, J. H. Wright, and Lela Hickox added their names to the list.

Our Junior year made quite some change in the class. R. L. Burnam, Jean Burgess, Adlyne Groom, Austin Cone, Wilma Harris, Jennie Lee Nobles, Blanche West and Matalie Parker enrolled. At the beginning of the second semester we also took two members into our class. These persons were not new members in this school, but not being able to stay out of a good class like ours, they made high school in three years. They were none other than Zudie Mae Bible and Earl Ritchie.

Now we are dignified seniors! Not us alone, but we have added other members. They are Frances Marshall, Marvin Calliham, Jane Clark, Joe Collins, Paul Scott, Mary Beth Campbell and Tyson Cox. Mary Beth and Tyson are not new in this high school, but this is their first year to be with us, in our class. We hardly see how we've done without them.

Writer Sees Class' Future

I dipped into the future far as human eyes could see Saw the visions of the world and all the wonders that could be Saw the class of '33 thrown against the cold, cold world;
Saw their failures and achievements as the scroll of fate unfurled.
There's our proud and noble president, well known, tall, and daring one
As it ever was in school days, his life's "Rule" is making fun.
For vice president, F. A. Thomas,
there is big-league football,
J. H. Wright seems to answer politics' insistent call.
Verline Furlow is a playwright now of international name.
Mary Beth Campbell as leading lady in her dramas shares her fame.
Author Hardman is the leader of some notorious clan.
On the bench of our Supreme Court sits Marvin Calliham.
Lloyd Buchanan now holds the title of a "blasted English Lord," Ogden Stroud from a soap box dominates the rabble horde.
Elvert Laughery is turning handsprings in a Wheeler Circus
Ring,
Frances Marshall aspires to opera and is trying hard to sing.
Louise Wester edits papers, and she keeps them up-to-date;
Kathryn Robinson will be remembered as a teacher of debate.
Wilma Harris is keeping step to the world's most famous band;
Margery Tankersley plans White House parties as "First Lady of the Land."
Six-foot Joe, standing on the ground air traffic now directs.
Lela Hickox is a dancing teacher
what else could we expect?
Victor Hill is a noted preacher,
quite religious I suppose.
Truett O'Donald won his fame by grafting onions with a rose.
Leonard Brasuel is the president of the Great United States.
R. L. Burnam is quite adventurous and has seen the world by riding freights.
When we think of Robert Black, it brings us all to tears,
For he was sent to prison for ninety-seven years.
Shirley Breitling is writing stories for the "True Romance."
Eulalia is a cow-girl on a New Mexico Ranch.
Jennie Lee Noble is the house-wife of one of our home town boys
Matalie Parker lives in New York where she works at making toys.
Jane Clark is an old-maid, she takes her poodle where she goes.
Lula Visage is house-wife and mother in that little bungalow.
Earl Ritchie is a doctor; Blanche West is a nurse; our class has one bootlegger, R. J. Hurst.
Phyllis Bryant is manager of an orphans' home
Jean Burgess is teaching in a music school at Rome.
Zudie Mae Bible took Miss Clark's place in our dear old Canyon
High.
J. M. Black an acrobat became a human fly.
Austin Cone is football coach in old Umbarger High
Jack Burnett is a life saver in a back yard swimming pool.
We have two old-maid school teachers Myrtle Cates and Adlyne Groom.
Tyson Cox was chased out of town for beating his wife with a broom.
Maxine Middleton is known as the world's most famous star.
Jack Downing became famous by making the first trip to Mars.
Ruth Frank runs a nursery, but alas! they are all her own.
H. B. Owen became a woman killer and a breaker up of homes.
Paul Scott, our strong and silent man, sells peanuts from an old five gallon can.
And an humble crown of thorns
will be my fate, I guess,
For I am dreaming of happier days in dear old C. H. S.

Editorial

The senior class in any hign school should set the example for the rest of the classes; that is it should strive to lead the other classes in being loyal to the school, to support the school in athletics, to follow the traditions of the school when it is necessary and also not to follow traditions when it can not profit by it.

The senior class of 1932-1933 has in every way been a leader for the rest of the school. We hope that the school is better for our having been here, and we hope that as a class and as individuals we have not failed to uphold the traditions and high standards of the Canyon High School.

Athletics Led In High School By Graduates

The Seniors of '32 and '33 have certainly taken a lot of interest in athletics.

In football, ten out of the twenty men that received letters were seniors. They were F. A. Thomas, Ogden Stroud, J. M. Black, Tyson Cox, Leonard Brasuel, George Brasuel and Austin Cone. These seven men were on the regular team. The other three, Robert Black, Joe Collins and Truett O'Donald were substitutes.

The boys' basketball team contained a number of seniors. They were F. A. Thomas, Ogden Stroud, Tyson Cox, George Brasuel, Austin Cone, Robert Black, Joe Collins, and Jack Burnett.

In track, the seniors are extremely well represented. Austin Cone, mile, and F. A. Thomas, quarter, will represent Canyon High at Austin. Other seniors that came out for track were R. L. Burnam, Jack Burnett and Elvert Laughery.

On the girls' basketball team there were only one senior girl, Wilma Harris, or as most people know her, "Little Red."

The senior boys won the intramural track meet held in Canyon High.

In tennis Robert Black and Austin Cone played doubles and Ogden Stroud played singles.

By Blanche West.

The debate squad of Canyon High School has engaged in 50 debates. Out of this number they have lost 24. The teams they have debated are: Amarillo, Pampa, Lubbock, Friona, Hereford, Beulah, Quanah, Plainview, Olton, McLean, Littlefield and Ralls. The success of the debates is largely due the persons who made the debates possible. We of the debate squad are very grateful and want to offer our thanks to those who took cars on the various trips, Messrs. Ball, Orton, Stroud, Hudson, G. W. Cox, Carruth, Barksdale and Miss Murrell.

Juniors Entertain Seniors, April 25, With Banquet

The Juniors and Seniors gathered at the First Christian church for their annual banquet Tuesday, April 25. at eight o'clock.

About ninety Juniors and Seniors found their places at the attractively decorated tables. Mr. Terry gave blessings, then everyone was seated. The Junior toastmistress, Armor Lee Greenfield, gave the welcome address to the Seniors. George Brasuel the Senior president, made the response.

Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald and Durward Brown furnished music during the time the five course dinner was being served. The Senior trio, Marvin Calliham, H. B. Owens, and J. H. Wright sang two numbers between courses. Frances Usery and Dorothy Faye Rusk gave a tap dance number. They were accompanied by Carrie Marie Townsend at the piano.

Mr. Terry gave a talk on the Senior Class, of which he is sponsor. He also addressed the Senior President for 1933-34, Alton Brasuel, brother of George, who is the present senior president.

Carruth Returns From Austin and Legislative Meet

We left Canyon at 1:00 on Monday and on Tuesday at 2:00 were in Fort Worth. We found greener and better crops after leaving the cap rock. We ran into spring time in Fort Worth and summer time in Austin and did not see a sandstorm while we were gone. Austin is beautiful at this time of the year, with a wealth of red roses and green foliage everywhere. Our party stayed at the Petrified Forest tourist camp and drove back and forth to the city where we spent most of our time in the legislative halls of the capital. We found the legislators courteous and willing to listen to what we had to say. Wednesday, and Thursday morning were spent in transacting business for the school and county, by the entire party. We took some time off to see the views of the University campus and other places of interest around Austin. Texas is building a wonderful State University from her oil money. An educational institution of which the entire South may be proud. It seems to be the unanimous belief of the members of both houses that something must be done to save our public schools. Many schools in the State are closing this year with 7 or 8 months school terms and unless the per capita apportionment is maintained at a $14 or $15 level, the school term of 1933-34 will be a short term for the majority of schools in Texas.

The most interesting meeting that I attended was the one held by school board members on Wednesday. Hundreds of members of Boards of Education from all over the State of Texas were present at this meeting. The school problems of the various sections were discussed and a summary presented to the legislature. I believe that the law making bodies of our State were convinced that the people of Texas are determined that the children shall have an opportunity to get an adequate education.

We returned by way of Fredericksburg, an old southern town, and saw the source of most of our cedar posts. The trip was both pleasant and profitable to the entire party. Those making the trip were Judge Orton and his son Bob, Frank R. Phillips, Fred Wortham, and I. B. Carruth, superintendent of city schools.

Wednesday night, April 26, the Wranglers club of the college, held a dancing and swimming contest. Athalee Overton and Mable Schmitz won first place in the dance without music, and second place in the contest with music. There was also a group of high school girls that won first place in a circle dance. These girls were Armor Lee Greenfield, Wilma Price, Alberta Hammond, Velma Crawford, Ellen Dickenson, Wilma Harris, Lee Christine Cousins, Mable Schmitz and Athalee Overton. The prize in this contest was a pineapple. Inside the pineapple was an invitation to a party to be given by the Wranglers when they open their new hall.

The Tawawana club went to the South Creek on Tuesday afternoon on a picnic. Each person took a lunch and spread it together. Several games were played, but the most important was "rick-racking." The afternoon was enjoyed by twenty-two members, chaperoned by Miss Murrell and Mrs. Cousins. The hike out there and back was enjoyable.

Merchants Made Trip Possible For Contestants

Mr. Terry and Mr. Jones were asked to speak to merchants of the town to find their opinions concerning the desirability and practibility of sending the district winners to Austin. Practically every man whom either Mr. Jones or Mr. Terry talked to was intensely interested and highly in favor of sending our delegates. Several of the men contributed. Altogether thirty dollars was raised. Thanks are due to the merchants who contributed. Those who are going are T. F. Thomas, Austin Cone, and Rosa Cash, accompanied by Coach Barksdale. They will leave Wednesday morning, May 3.

Heart Throps

bles are big pals. The other night I saw them walking down the street with two young men—rather I thought they were. When I first looked at them I thought they were strangers and the girls were stepping out on their steadies, but after I looked a second time, I saw it was Milton Myers and Dick Smith, their old flames.

Elvert Laughery likes blondes so I have heard. Zudie Mae Bible is hard to keep track of. The first thing I know she is down to McLean, and the next thing I know some McLean boys are up here. Well, this couldn't go on; so he just came up here and started to college. I wonder if she is satisfied?

Louise Wester is the biggest pest I ever saw when anybody mentions a red car. She gets all excited and has to know every little detail of what was seen and finally she says "That must have been Joe Slack. Then comes the questions and at last she goes off to see if she can find this red car. I wonder if she hunts very long?

Author Hardman has a way with all women. He is careful though in picking the ones he wants to go with. By what I noticed the other night at the volleyball game I believe he prefers the Juniors.

R. J. Hurst got a big car to carry all his girls around in, but since they all quit him he has to load it up with boys.

Now let me tell you that F. A. Thomas is a great big he-man when it comes to picking girls. He likes Junior girls quite well I have noticed. Somehow or other he doesn't like to make his affairs public; so every hour or so you see him slipping a note into Velma's hand and then rushing off down the hall. I wonder if he is bashful? I just can't say.

I can't tell you much about Ruth Frank's boy friend. He lives in Amarillo and doesn't show himself down here, but I guess it's all right. Don't you?

Earl Ritchie is turning out to be a fine play character. He brought tears to some of his girl friends' eyes by his actions.

Jean Burgess likes the college boys. I wonder what power they are holding over her?

Frances Marshall thinks she can't walk to school any more since her "Buddie" brought her for a while, but I hope she learns better some day.

Since you have heard about some of these boys and girls getting along so well, listen to this. When this certain person arrived in Canyon last fall to finish high school, he set his eyes on a sophomore. She seemed to care very little for him, so he started going with a Junior. This cute little Junior went with other boys, so he didn't go with her very long. Then he found another Junior that he was just crazy about and went with her about four months. Then along came her former sweetheart and took her away from him. He now wants to go with a freshman. This person is Marvin Calliham.

Senior Gift

The gift of the senior class of '33 will be curtains for the windows of the auditorium. These curtains will serve to cut out the glare of light that has before entered the auditorium directly on the audience. These curtains are made of Monk's cloth and are manufactured by the Denver Scenic company.

The gifts of the last three years have been curtains for the auditorium stage in 1930. A senior book in 1931, and a radio in 1932.

Miss Elva Lee Bagley, who has been teaching a class in Ninth grade English, has given up the class because of the heavy work at the college as it approaches the end of school. Her work here has been excellent, and students and teachers alike regret to see her leave. Mr. Terry will teach the course the remainder of the term.

Music Program Open Exhibits To All Visitors

A program was given by the music department Friday night in the high school auditorium, and after the program all the rooms of exhibit were opened at both grade school and high school.

There was a very large crowd to see the exhibit. of which all the teachers were proud, and the parents seemed to be interested in what their children were doing in school. The exhibit was supposed to last all day Saturday, but on account of the sandstorm there were no visitors.

If you do not believe the first and second grade students are getting ready for high school, you should have seen what they have been doing. Did you visit Miss Thorpe's, Mrs. Collins' and Mrs. Beeson's rooms? Well, if you did not you missed the best part of the exhibit, because those children have sure been doing some fine work. The work at both schools seemed to be ideal to the parents.

Punch was served to the visitors at both schools, and we hope each and everyone enjoyed the exhibit.

Parents, you are cordially invited to visit school at any convenient time.

Burgess Announced Valedictorian of Senior Class

The valedictorian and salutatorian are chosen from the graduating class each year. In the proceeding years scholarships, offered by various state colleges, have been given to these two honorary students. Since the state colleges have discontinued this custom these places now become only honorary positions.

In order to determine the two most highest in their grades the averages for last year's two semesters, the first semester of this year, and the first two six weeks of this semester are taken.

This year the valedictorian of the class is Jean Burgess. Jean's average is 93.8 for the past two years.

The salutatorian of the class is Verline Furlow. Verline's average for the past two years is 92.9.

In the past the boy making the highest grades received a scholarship, but this year the scholarship has been discontinued. R. L. Burnam is the boy that would have been entitled to the scholarship if it was to be given. R. L. had an an average of 89.55 for the past two years.

The person making the second highest average among the boys is Ogden Stroud. He has an average of 88.8 for the past two years.

Chapel

On Wednesday, April 26, the regular Assembly program was presented in the Auditorium. During the first part, a talk was given by Mr. Lynn Squires who has been holding a Merchant school at the county court house. He talked on the importance of determination in order to win in life. He stated that in most cases the winners of anything win in their own hearts before they do in the world. He compared the life of an individual to a race track.

During the latter part of the period, the Latin club presented a program consisting of two songs in latin, a piano solo by Fredda Charles Bills. and a short play. The numbers were announced by Jean Burgess, president of the club. The play was entitled, "In Gallia." The scene was laid in a French restaurant. Jewell Chambers and Earl Ritchie played the parts of two Americans who were visiting in France. The part of the French maid was taken by Lorene Bessire. The theme of the play was the importance of Latin. Although neither of the American students had ever studied French, one of them had studied Latin. The one who did not take Latin was unable to make the maid understand what she desired to eat. The one who had taken Latin was able to say the foods in Latin and French is based on Latin, just as other langpages are, the maid was able to comprehend what was meant.

"Commencement"

The commencement exercises of the senior class of '33 will be held Monday evening, May 22 in the High School Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock. The commencement address will be delivered by Rev. Roy Snodgrass of Amarillo. The Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. J. R. Hicks. It will be held in the Methodist church Sunday morning, May 21, at 10:45.

"Adam and Eve" To Be Presented Tonight at H. S.

"Adam and Eve" the oldest words in history, but the newest in play production. This is the name of the play that is to be presented tonight by the graduation class of Canyon High School.

Mrs. Cleatice Crump, the director, has been working with the cast for the past five weeks in order to make this the best Senior Play ever presented at Canyon High School.

Several large posters were made by the Freshman art class of the college, and given to the Seniors, in order that they might advertise the play. Last Saturday morning three members of the cast went to the College and made an announcement in chapel concerning the play.

The scene of the play is the study of Arnold Baxter Armstrong, a millionaire, who hesitates to have his daughter marry a vagabond author. Mr. Armstrong goes away for a vacation, leaving his son Neu, in charge of his business. Trouble arises in the South American branch office and Ned sends Ruth's lover, Adam Mason, to South America to straighten up the trouble. Ruth refuses to marry Adam after he returns, but Ned marries his father's secretary, Jo Nelson. Adam starts to leave when Eve Armstrong, Mr. Armstrong's niece, says she wants to go with him. Adam asks her if she really would marry him. The audience is left bewildered as to whether or not they are married.

The cast as selected by Mr. Carruth, Mr. Terry, and Mrs. Crump, is as follows.

Arnold Baxter Armstrong—Tyson Cox.

Mrs. Armstrong—Zudie Mae Bible.

Ned Armstrong—Robert Black.

Ruth Armstrong—Eulalie Moore.

The maid—Lela Hickox.

Joe Nelson—Louise Wester.

Evelyn Armstrong—Mary Beth Campbell.

Adam Mason—R. L. Burnam.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Remember it is TONIGHT.

Admission charges: College and school students, 15 cents; adults 25 cents.

Caps and Gowns Are Ordered For Closing Exercises

The caps and gowns have been ordered, and the faculty is going to wear them also this year. If you see some one coming down the street with a cap and gown on don't say, "There comes one of those dignified Seniors," because it may be one of those "dignified teachers."

Some people are taken to be who they are not some times, for instance. Miss Brasuel was thought to be a girl entering the "Flower Arrangement for a Breakfast" at the District Meet.

Each of the seniors will be glad when the caps and gowns come.

Uncle Sam's Visit

"Uncle Sam's Visit," is a musical play that is to be presented in the high school auditorium Friday, May 5, at 8:00 p. m. The musical play is a project of the sixth grade and is sponsored by that grade being assisted by the third, fourth and fifth grades.

"The Old Woman in a Shoe" entertains Uncle Sam by having her children, which represent various nations, sing their native songs and perform their native folk dances.

The principal characters are:

Uncle Sam—Billie Bawley.

Miss Columbia, his daughter—Anna Mae Spencer.

Old Woman in the Shoe—May Horn.

Messenger boy—Dick Redfearn.

Alton Brasuel Elected President For Seniors of '34

The seniors of next year are trying something that has never been done before in the history of the school, the electing of their president a year ahead of time.

Out of the Junior class two men were chosen as candidates, Dan Gerald and Alton Brasuel. After a week of intensive campaigning by the friends of these two boys an election was held, by secret ballot.

In the final counting of the votes Alton Brasuel was elected to lead the destinies of the Senior class of 1933-'34.

Alton was formally announced as the president of next year's class at the Junior-Senior banquet on April 25th.

We only hope that he continues the good work and follows in the footsteps of his brother. George Brasuel, who is the president of this year's senior class.

Scouts Observe "Earn-a-Quarter Week" in Earnest

The Girl Scout organization in this school system is celebrating "Earn a Quarter Week" at the present time. The plan is for each girl to earn a quarter to be applied toward the expense of the summer camp to be held soon after school is out. The girls are divided in two patrols and are trying various methods of making money. Two other schemes are selling coat hangers, and selling candy. A prize of a girl scout diary will be given to the girl who uses the most clever method of earning her quarter for the week.

The girls are planning an international program to be given sometime during May which will be designated mother-daughter night, and the mothers of the scouts will be honored at this time.

In the camp to which the girls will go this summer, the scouts will be taught archery, signaling, swimming, cooking. trail blazing, star lore, water supply, and many other things. The headquarters of the camp will be at Camp Kiwanis, west of Amarillo. Camp Kiwanis has eight rock cabins, and a big central hall and dining room.

A pretty girl can make a fool of the homliest man, a twentieth century sage remarks. May we infer that a handsome man needs no such assistance?

Supervisor's Column

The Supervisor of a high school is interested always in the teaching process since that is the chief thing which determines the success of a school. Often, however, it is of value in judging this process to make an appraisal of the result. Particularly is this true when we approach the end of every school year, and realize that we are about to send another class of graduates out from the further influence of our teaching.

No doubt the present graduating class has its usual quota of good and bad students. It includes individuals of outstanding scholastic achievement as well as those whose chief claim to distinction lies in their activity programs in athletics or otherwise. Those things are set forth at sufficient length elsewhere in this issue of the Eagles Tale.

It is my pleasure however to note that in the present class we have been able to develop certain excellent traits of character, to a marked degree. Leadership, as worked out in acting as student executives; honesty, in the handling of around $250.00 in activity money; loyalty to their school and to one another; and energy, shown both in the pushing of studies and in the activity programs.

All in all, if we have not made brilliant scholars of them all, we have at least inculcated in many a love of learning. and in all an earnest desire and outstanding ability to step forth from school and take their places as intelligent citizens of a Democracy. And this, we take it, is the ultimate purpose of education in the secondary schools of our country.

AFTERNOON SCHEDULE CHANGES

In order for the students to have more time for study, the afternoon schedule has been changed. There will be no more clubs, activity periods, or volley ball practice, but there will be straight classes and school will turn out at 3:45. This change will give the students that are behind in their work a chance to make it up and will give us all a chance to close school work in a more satisfactory condition.

Seniors Honored By Flower Gift of Carruth, Stroud

The school grounds are being beautified this spring by many beautiful flowers. Mr. Carruth has donated six spiraes to the members of the Press Club. Mrs. Stroud has dedicated a dozen roses to some of the members of the senior class who have shown themselves outstanding in the activities this year. Six roses were set out on the north side of the steps for the boys and six on the south side for the girls. Those being honored are: Margery Tankersley, Senior Queen, with a white Kaiserin rose, Eulalie Moore, a help in everything, with a Hadley rose; Jean Burgess, valedictorian, with a Red Radiance rose; Verline Furlow, salutatorian, with a Salmon Radiance rose; Mary Beth Campbell, 100% actor, with a premier rose; Kathryn Robinson, debater with a Pink Radiance rose; Leonard Brasuel, president of the student association, with a pink Radiance rose; Austin Cone, senior king, with a white Kaiserin rose; George Brasuel, president of the senior class, with a Los Angeles rose, R. L. Burnam, highest scholastic average boy, with Los Angeles rose; Ogden Stroud, debater, with a red Radiance rose; Joe Collins, debater, with a salmon Radiance rose. Seniors Receive Commencement Announcements

The Seniors have received the invitations that were ordered quite a while ago. Even though all of the Seniors did not order their invitations they have gotten them from The Commercial Printing Shop.

Most of the Seniors ordered their cards from the Warwick Printing Office, or the Commercial Printing Shop. If you will take a peek at the Seniors you will find that they are exchanging cards.

Mrs. Lee Foster and Wm. Dawes in Recital Monday

A Beethoven sonata featured the piano recital given Monday evening by Margaret Foster, a pupil of Miss Pauline Brigham's, in the college auditorium. Mrs. Foster was assisted by William Dawes, baritone, who is a former student in the W. T. music department.

Mrs. Foster is now piano instructor in the Canyon public school system. She is organist at the Presbyterian Church and has won considerable fame among Southwestern critics for her talented work in musical circles. Mr. Dawes will be remembered by a large number of W. T. students, having graduated only two years ago, in 1931.

His voice has the resonance of the pure baritone and was as delightful to hear as that of any soloist to appear here this year. His "Cowboy Requiem," by Gregor, was particularly well received. Whelpley's "Oh, for a Breath of the Moorlends" seems to have been written for the young baritone. His depth and tonal qualities made it a near perfect rendition.

The program was made up of many difficult numbers. Mrs. Foster gave an excellent interpretation of "Seguidilla," by Albeniz, a number which seldom fails to please an audience as none other. The Beethoven sonata, however,—coming first on the program—was the most beautiful treat of the evening's many.

The program:

Sonata Op. 10 ..... Beethoven
Allegro molto e con brio
Gavotte ..... Gluck-Brahms
Mrs. Foster
Dedication ..... Franz
The Pine Tree ..... Salter
Cowboy's Requiem ..... Gregor
Oh, for a Breath of the Moorlands ..... Whelpley
Mr. Dawes
On Wings of Song ..... Mendelssohn-Litz
Butterfly ..... Grieg
Prelude in C sharp minor ..... Rachmaninoff
Seguidilla ..... Albeniz
Mrs. Foster

Sign for Chicago Title Bout

McMurry President Gives W. T. Highest Moral Status

"West Texas State Teachers College ranks highest in morals of all state schools."

Such is a statement taken from the address made by Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of McMurry College, Abilene, last Wednesday at the Spring Conference of the Methodist Church held in Amarillo. The tribute was made in the course of a discussion on the educational situation in Texas today.

Touching upon the cost of operating state schools, Dr. Hunt said: "Every young person should be required to pay at least one-half the cost of his education. . . . No poor man should be compelled to help pay for the education of a rich man's son while that son goes to school, and often produces nothing but hell."

The McMurry president included in his talk a sound and ringing denunciation of the beer law and the attempts to legalize the beverage in Texas. He said: "The liquor interests are depending to a great extent on 'poodle dog mothers' to encourage their evil traffic."

Included in the delegates elected to represent the Amarillo District at the Clarendon conference: Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, student advisor of the Canyon Methodist Church.

Palo Duro Park

sites, dams and possibilities of beautification.

J. Evetts Haley came from Austin to assist with the project, as he knows all of the trails of the Palo Duro.

J. O. Guleke believes that the project will employ 5,000 men during the coming winter if title may be secured to the land at an early date.

Mrs. Phebe K. Warner stated that "we are a punk set if we cannot finish the job which the Goodnights started." The fact that a woman, Mrs. Goodnight, drove the first wagon down into the Palo Duro is a challenge to the men and the women of the Panhandle to build this Trail in the memory of Colonel and Mrs. Goodnight.

J. B. Elliston stated that 100,000 visitors had been registered in two years at the Palo Duro Park established by the citizens of Canyon, coming from 47 states and 10 foreign nations. He gave figures as to what the major project would mean to this section.

Return of "Prince of Liars" at College on May 10th

The Plains Dramatic Players, a company of students and ex-students from the dramatic department of the college, will present "The Prince of Liars" in the auditorium of the Education Building next Wednesday, May 10. The performance is under the auspices of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. Proceeds to be used to purchase exhibit equipment for the museum.

This is not an amateur performance, since the company of players have performed before several Panhandle audiences in the past few weeks. In addition to the play there will be two big vaudeville acts between acts of the play. J. B. Fowler, local blackface comedian, will be featured in blackface comedy skits. Also a well trained chorus of tap dance girls from the physical education department of the college, under the direction of Mrs. Wallace O'Keefe.

The "Prince of Liars," a three-act farcical comedy, is a very popular play, filled with comedy from the opening line to the last curtain. Each member of the cast is well trained for his or her part in the performance. Miss Lorine Robbins is director of the cast. J. B. Fowler is business manager.

This show is booked at the La Nora Theater in Pampa this week, Friday, May 5, sponsored by the Pampa schools and several prominent business men of Pampa. No pictures will be shown at the theater on that date. Two performances will be given. One at 4:30 for school children, and the evening performance at 8:30. Prices for the evening performance will be 20c and 40c.

You will have the opportunity of seeing this same show next Wednesday evening for 10c and 25c. If you enjoy a good laugh; if you want to help along a good cause; meet your friends at the Education Building Auditorium at 8:15 p. m. May 10, and enjoy two hours of real entertainment.

Any man with brains is worth money, but only a few have brains enough to get it, and still less have enough brains to keep it.

There are two kinds of people—those who do things without making a fuss and those who make a fuss without doing things.

Blind Jigsaw Puzzler

Although he is blind, David G. Reeder, above, of Los Angeles, is an expert at piecing together jigsaw puzzles. He fits the puzzles together by feeling with his fingers the shapes of the edges of the individual pieces. Four or five hours is the time it takes Reeder, a college graduate, to complete a 300-piece picture.

New Envoys to Italy, Cuba

Here are Breckinridge Long, left, of Missouri, newly appointed ambassador to Italy, and Sumner Welles, new ambassador to Cuba. The selection of Welles, formerly assistant secretary of state, as envoy to the island at a time when terrorism and turbulence under the rule of President Gerardo Machado are at their height, is believed to indicate that the United States will intervene to settle Cuban conditions.

WHAT FOOLS THERE BE

It was a beautiful car. Guess they had just had it for a short time. The road was fine and they were "letting it out," racing alongside the train that bore us north. The driver waved his hand to us as he spurted ahead and then dropped back, speeding ahead again as we laughed at him. He was just showing us that he could beat us—even if we were traveling at around 60 miles an hour.

The engineer on our train pulled the whistle cord, and the sound had barely died away when we saw the man in the car sink lower in his seat and "give it the gas." He disappeared from our view.

There was a little jar to the train, and soon we heard the grind of brakes. As we passed the crossing we saw clothing scattered along the way, and over against the fence was what looked like a woman, lying face down.

Our train came to a halt. After a little while we went on again. In the baggage car on a stretcher was the driver of the car. A broken leg and several cuts were all he got out of it. His wife and two daughters would never go on a vacation again.

When he gets well, I wonder if he will ever attempt to beat a train to the crossing?—Rock Island Magazine.

Those original Roosevelt men must be asleep—or perhaps there are so many of them they are all lost in the shuffle.

The good old boom days were not so good. They gave us expensive habits which we find it embarrassing to shake off.

The Lindys Fly Once More

Taking to the air for the first time in many months, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, America's most famous flying couple, flew throughout the country on a transcontinental inspection tour, stopping at various cities to renew old friendships. They are shown above just after they had landed at one of the airports on their schedule. Below, the Colonel is shown flashing the smile famous at the time of his trans-Atlantic flight, but infrequent since the kidnaping of his baby
